

LIFE SCIENCES

LIFE SCIENCES DIVISION OVERVIEW

We serve the people and organizations that improve, extend, and save human lives. We work with biotechnology, pharmaceutical, and medical device professionals throughout the United States – improving performance and adding value through talent access, strategic insight, and legendary service.

Through our strategic approach of specialization, we can deliver solutions as individuals or teams to help with the development of Medical Devices, Biotech and Pharmaceuticals along with the compassionate care needed in the medical and clinical fields. We also apply our exact same stringent recruitment and screening process for our high-level positions to all of our mid-level and manufacturing positions. This helps to ensure that we are getting you the best person we can find for the job, not the first person we find!

All of our staff are trained to know all of the different intricacies of each job in each industry. We understand that not all chemists are the same, just as we know that a Medical Technologist licensed in Chemistry is not going to be a fit for any other industry. When you work with us, you will get the right person the first time.
